David J. Anderson Elected to The Alliance to Save Energy Board of Directors

Ameresco EVP to serve his first term on the organization's board

FRAMINGHAM, MASS. – June 13, 2019 – Ameresco, Inc., (NYSE: AMRC), a leading energy efficiency and renewable energy company, announced today that the company's Executive Vice President and Director David J. Anderson was elected to serve on the Alliance to Save Energy's Board of Directors. The Alliance to Save Energy is a nonprofit, bipartisan alliance of government, business, consumer and environmental leaders advocating for enhanced energy productivity to achieve a cleaner environment, drive economic growth and increase energy security, affordability and reliability.

In addition to Anderson, the Alliance's board is comprised of other corporate and nonprofit executives, along with an Honorary Board of Advisers made up of members of Congress.

"We're excited to welcome David Anderson to the board and tap into his experience and expertise in the field," said Alliance President Jason Hartke. "His insight will be invaluable as we look to develop the partnerships, policies and solutions needed to continue advancing energy efficiency across the economy."

As a member of Ameresco's founding management team, Anderson directs the company's business development initiatives and serves as the General Manager for several business units in the United States and United Kingdom. Additionally, he serves as a Director on Ameresco's Board of Directors.

"I've spent my entire career in the energy field, focused on promoting, developing and delivering economically and environmentally beneficial energy efficiency and renewable energy solutions to the marketplace," said Anderson. "The Alliance to Save Energy is doing tremendous work to expand our economy, while at the same time, reducing energy consumption and cost. I look forward to bringing my career-long dedicated industry experience in this area, to help the Board advance the Alliance's mission."
